The result of the eligibility check will be sent to your institutional email account (if active) or to the personal email address provided on Infostud.

4. Assessment of personal knowledge

If the above requirements are met, in order to enrol on the degree programme, students must also take a test designed to assess their individual knowledge. The degree programme assesses students' personal knowledge through an individual interview or an evaluation of their academic record, with particular regard to examinations in the core subject areas and a command of English at least at CEF (Common European Framework) level B2. This requirement is met either by holding an official CEF certificate or by having earned at least 3 CFU credits in the form of an 'English language proficiency' qualification. Proficiency in English is also deemed to be demonstrated in the case of: native English-speaking students; students holding a diploma or degree awarded in English from an accredited institution in the EU/EEA/Schengen area or in Australia, Canada, New Zealand, the United Kingdom and the United States; students holding an International Baccalaureate (IB), GCSE or equivalent diplomas/certificates. If students do not meet the listed qualifications or requirements, they will be required to take an interview to assess their knowledge of English. Page 4

Students who have obtained a first-level degree in classes 17 and 28 (pursuant to Ministerial Decree 509/99) and L-18 and L-33 (pursuant to Ministerial Decree 270/04 and subsequent amendments and additions) are exempt from taking the personal knowledge assessment test. Graduates from other categories who have achieved a degree mark of at least 90/110 are also exempt from the personal aptitude test.
